I've been drawing and creating since the day I was born. I quickly found a love for people, faces, and personalities. I started by drawing faces from magazines over and over...and over again playing with every medium I could get my hands on. I would stay up all night painting before going to school where, I may, have spent most of my day in the art room, my sanctuary. I started taking my first commissions. $20/ sketch from classmates and friends, that's when I decided I could make a living at being an artist. So, I kept drawing. With each year my canvases grew and at age 19 was asked to paint my first mural. From there my true professional career began. Today murals have taken the majority of my portfolio. I work from my home studio in Winchester, Virginia where I live with my husband, 3 kids, and too many pets. My murals can be found all through the Shenandoah valley, surrounding cities and states. I am blessed with the opportunity to meet fascinating people every day and to be given the trust to represent them with my art is an honor. I do what I love and I love what I do.
